

Moon Team Cited; Mars Plans Aired

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress called a joint session to applaud the U.S. moon team today as the Nixon administration moved ahead with new proposals to put an American on Mars, possibly within two decades.

Apollo 11 astronauts Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins were invited to address the lawmakers at noon EDT.

Belated Honors
The belated congressional honor comes 57 days after Armstrong and Aldrin set foot on the moon. President Nixon paid tribute to the astronauts with a state dinner more than a month ago in Los Angeles, and there were huge parades for them in New York and Chicago.

Congress, on vacation from Aug. 13 until Sept. 3, had planned a joint session for the astronauts last week but postponed it because of the death of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen.

As Congress was preparing for today's big occasion, the White House announced Nixon was extending the U.S. space goal well past the moon.

Crash Program Out
He accepted a special task force report calling for a landing on Mars but advising against an expensive crash program. The report turned down suggestions that manned space flights be phased out.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, asked whether the acceptance of the report meant the President was committing himself to a man on Mars, said: "Yes, I think so."

Agnew Heads Group
Vice President Spiro T. Agnew headed the task force which suggested three options, all including a manned landing on Mars and two of them setting the 1980s as the possible time for achieving it. No details were disclosed but the report is to be made public eventually.

In Ireland:

Removal Of Barricades Is Approved

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A Roman Catholic citizens' committee indicated today that it was accepting the British army's demand for speedy removal of barricades thrown up by the Catholics in Belfast.

The Central Citizens' Defense Committee issued a statement saying the government had given adequate assurance that persons inside the barricades will not be arrested under the Special Powers Act, which allows suspects to be jailed without trial.

"The committee feels that negotiations on the provision of adequate protection and the removal of the barricades can now commence," the statement said.

The committee also said the list of demands it issued Monday had been misinterpreted. The organization had said earlier that it would defend the barricades unless the demands were met.

The demands included repeal of the Special Powers Act, disbandment of the Protestant police reserves, disarming of the regular police, and British legislation if the Ulster government fails to deliver a package of promised pro-Catholic reforms.

The statement today apparently paves the way for removal of the barricades under an agreement reached in London last week. Under the agreement, British officers will reach separate agreements with the residents of each barricaded neighborhood on the protection the residents feel they need following removal of the barricades. The residents and the army are then to join in bringing the barricades down.

The committee issued its statement after the British army's commander in Northern Ireland returned from London with orders to take down the barricades despite Catholic opposition.

Astronaut Nixes Political Trail

DETROIT (AP) — Apollo 8 commander Frank Borman says he has no immediate plans to run for political office.

The Air Force colonel, in Detroit as a substitute speaker for NASA Administrator Thomas O. Paine before the Economic Club, told a Monday news conference he won't decide whether to run for an office until after his retirement next summer.

Formidable Task In Path Of U.N. Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly opens its 24th session today, facing a long list of formidable problems including the Middle East, disarmament and the crisis in Northern Ireland.

The consensus is that the results of the three-month public debate will not be spectacular, but that the session will provide an opportunity for important private talks.

The opening session this afternoon was reserved for the formalities of electing Angie Brooks, 41-year-old Liberian lawyer-diplomat, president of the 126-nation assembly. She was unopposed.

Major Policy Speeches
The major policy speeches began Thursday when President Nixon flies to New York to address the assembly. Secretary-General U Thant hailed his decision to appear as a gesture of support for the world organization.

Consultations were expected today or Wednesday between U.S. and Soviet diplomats to prepare for meetings between

Jewelry Store Owner Takes Law In His Own Hands

DETROIT (AP) — The assistant manager of a downtown Detroit jewelry store shot at a man driving down a busy avenue, (Monday), saying he believed the man to be a robber who has just stolen a $2,500 watch, Police said. Police said the bullet did not hit anyone and missed the man in the car.

Joseph Gartner, 57, chased a bandit outside his store after the man grabbed an expensive watch from his hand. Police said Gartner was walking back to the store, having lost sight of the fleeing man, when he spotted a person in a passing car he thought was the bandit and fired at him.

Son Of Hancock Fire Chief Held As Arson Suspect

HANCOCK (AP) — The son of the Hancock fire chief has been charged with arson in connection with a fire Saturday in the Upper Peninsula community which has been rocked with a series of fires the past two years.

Released On Bond
Fredrick Ruelle, 19, was charged with arson and released on $5,000 property bond posted by his father, Emery Ruelle who is chief of the Hancock volunteer fire department. Announcement of young Ruelle's arrest was made Monday by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and Secretary of State William P. Rogers. The two foreign ministers will discuss the Middle East, disarmament and other issues.

Big Four Talks Eyed
Thant is pressing hard for Big Four talks on the Middle East while the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union are attending the assembly session. They will get together Saturday night at a dinner which the secretary-general is giving for them.

Mine Explorers Find Deep Water, Large Roof Falls
FARMINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — A recovery team exploring Consolidation Coal Co.'s No. 9 mine has encountered waist-deep water and large roof falls.

The crew of six miners and five inspectors had gone 1 1/2 miles west from Atha's Run elevator Monday in the preliminary stages of operations to recover the bodies of 78 miners killed 10 months ago when fire and explosion thundered through the 7 1/2-mile-long mine.

William Parks of the U.S. Bureau of Mines said the team found no evidence of the bodies Monday.

John Ashcraft, state mines director, said recovery teams will enter the mine on regular shifts to pump water, clear debris and generally put the eastern two miles of the mine in operating condition.

When this is completed, probably in six weeks, the workers will proceed to phase two, clearing more of the mine including 1,000 tons of limestone dumped down a shaft, about two miles from the Atha's Run elevator, to seal it.

Phase three, the search for the 78 bodies, is expected to be six months away.

Disarmament Debate
The disarmament debate is also dependent partly upon what happens in private U.S.-Soviet talks and what progress is made in the next few weeks in the Geneva disarmament conference.

Diplomatic sources say the United States and Soviet Union are near agreement on a treaty to ban nuclear weapons from the sea floor. But it is not certain whether agreement will be reached in time to report it to the assembly at this session.

Tech Students Get School's Approval 'To Carry Arms'
HOUGHTON (AP) — Many of the enrolling freshmen at Michigan Technological University came armed this week, but university officials were ready for them.

The students at Michigan Tech, like the majority of American college students, have not rioted or caused civil disturbances. They bring weapons in anticipation of lush hunting in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, where the school is located.

They are even encouraged by Dean of Students Harold Meesebring their shotguns and rifles for duck, upland game, deer and bear seasons. The guns are checked in and stored in a locked room until the hunting seasons open.

Police said investigation continues into all three fires as well as several in the past two years which have damaged or destroyed several lumber mills, many unoccupied homes and other buildings.

$3 Million In Damages
Cost of damage in the many fires has been estimated at some $3 million.

Ruelle, who is a nephew of Hancock Police Chief Joe Karry, often accompanied the volunteer unit on missions.

Ruelle appeared in court Saturday and Magistrate Norman Ronkainen set the bond.

Nixon Gives Approval For Big Troop Cutback

Marine Unit Deactivation Gets Priority

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy is considering deactivating a Marine division, one-third of which is in Vietnam, as a way of further cutting defense spending this year, Pentagon sources report.

Involved is the West Coast-based 5th Marine Division, whose 6,000 to 7,000 man 26th Regiment is operating around Da Nang, South Vietnam.

The outfit's other two regiments are at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Military officers said in advance of today's scheduled White House announcement on troop withdrawals they did not know whether the 26th Regiment might be called home for deactivation as part of the cutbacks.

But they said the deactivation of the 5th, if ordered, would almost certainly require substantial Marine cuts in Vietnam since that division serves as the corps' rotation base for the Pacific area.

The Pentagon sources said dismantling of the 5th Division has been discussed recently as the Corps' part in meeting a $3 billion cut in defense spending ordered this year by Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird.

The 5th Division was activated specifically for the Vietnam war in March 1966 to fill a gap on the West Coast as the 1st Marine Division prepared to go to war.

Including the 1st Marine Division, two regiments of the 3rd Division and the 26th Regiment there are about 70,000 Marines serving in Vietnam.

About 8,000 of the 3rd Marine Division's 9th regimental landing team were sent from Vietnam to Okinawa last month under the Nixon administration's first 25,000-man pullout.

Gen. Hershey Said To Be On Way Out

NEW YORK (AP) — A Columbia Broadcasting System reporter says President Nixon is preparing to retire Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the Selective Service System, within the next month.

A White House spokesman in Washington said there was no such plan.

Newsman Dan Rather said Monday on the CBS Evening News with Walter Cronkite that Hershey would be replaced as part of a draft reform plan "designed to defuse domestic political opposition to the war."

Efforts To End War High On GOP Agenda

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today that at least 35,000 more U. S. troops will be withdrawn from Vietnam by Dec. 15.

That would bring to 60,000 the total of Americans in uniform to leave the war-torn country since the phased withdrawal program began in July.

Half Combat Troops
A White House source said about half of the 35,000 would be combat troops — a lower ratio than in the original withdrawal of 25,000 men. He also said the total might turn out to be 36,000 or 37,000 once the action has been completed.

There was no word from Nixon on possible future withdrawals but the source said a number of contingency plans have been drawn up.

Nixon once expressed hope that U.S. withdrawals might exceed 100,000 by the end of 1969 and the source said he had no reason to believe Nixon had abandoned that hope. The latest announcement made the 100,000 level seem most unlikely.

Peaceful Settlement Aim

The President coupled his new troop withdrawal announcement with a review of administration efforts to promote a peaceful settlement.

Calling for meaningful negotiations now, Nixon said: "I realize that it is difficult to communicate across the gulf of five years of war. But the time has come to end this war."

Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky said Monday in Saigon he understood Nixon would announce a second-stage withdrawal of 40,500 men.

Nixon Figure Accurate
U.S. officials explained Ky based his figure on a scheduled cut in the authorized troop ceiling in Vietnam whereas Nixon's announcement was couched in terms of actual numbers of men to be pulled out—a smaller figure because few units in Vietnam have their full authorized complement.

As for Ky's statement that he looked for a total U.S. withdrawal of 150,000 to 200,000 by the end of 1970, the White House source who talked to newsmen—declining to be quoted by name—said Ky did not get those figures from U.S. officials.

Ky's Statement On Troops KO'd By Yank Network

SAIGON (AP) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky's statement that 40,500 more American troops will be pulled out of South Vietnam was censored today from news broadcasts on the U.S. Armed Forces Network in Vietnam.

An official of the U.S. Command termed the censorship action a "rarity." But a staff member at the radio-television network's headquarters said the command "is always telling us what we can and can't report."

News broadcasts on the military network did include the Washington report that President Nixon had decided on additional withdrawals and would announce details today. But the broadcasts omitted all references to Ky's impromptu statement, made at an art exhibit in Saigon several hours before the White House said anything.

A U.S. Command spokesman said in reply to questions that Ky's remarks were considered "speculative," and the network "only uses confirmed stories."

Another official of the U.S. Command said Ky was blacked out "because we were expecting an announcement from President Nixon."

Village Raid By Viet Cong Fatal To 24

SAIGON (AP) — Two hundred North Vietnamese troops raided a village in the populous coastal lowlands south of Da Nang, killed 24 persons, wounded six others and destroyed 170 houses, South Vietnamese spokesmen reported today.

Sharp fighting was reported in various parts of South Vietnam as GIs and officers speculated which units would be included in new U.S. troop withdrawals. Allied forces killed 212 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in a dozen clashes from the Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone, military spokesmen said.

Allied casualties were five Americans and three South Vietnamese killed, and 49 Americans and two South Vietnamese wounded.

U.S. Headquarters said another American was killed and 53 others wounded in 29 rocket and mortar attacks between 8 a.m. Monday and 8 a.m. today.

The North Vietnamese attacked the village of Mai Linh, in the northern part of the country 12 miles southwest of Quang Ngai, shortly before midnight Monday with rockets, mortars, grenades and rifle fire.

The village of 288 persons was defended by militiamen, and three of them were killed. All of the other victims were civilians. Enemy losses were not known.

It was the second major North Vietnamese attack in the region in the past three days. Last Saturday about 200 North Vietnamese troops attacked a platoon of U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese militiamen in a village 13 miles northwest of Quang Ngai. This triggered an eight-hour fight in which two American Marines and eight Vietnamese civilians were killed, three Marines were wounded and 260 houses destroyed.

Reprimand Is Penalty For Evans' Chief

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP) — A one-man court-martial sentenced Cmdr. Albert S. McLemore to a reprimand today after finding the skipper of the U.S. destroyer Frank E. Evans guilty of negligence in the collision of his ship and the Australian aircraft carrier Melbourne.

The U.S. Navy judge, Capt. James E. Keys, 49, of Kansas City, Mo., announced his decision 40 minutes after testimony in the two-day trial ended. McLemore, 40, of San Pedro, Calif., stood stiffly at attention as the decision was read.

McLemore could have received a maximum of two years at hard labor and dismissal from the Navy.

Two of the destroyer's junior officers, both on the bridge at the time of the June 3 collision in the South China Sea, received reprimands earlier for their part in the tragedy which took the lives of 74 Americans.

One of the two, Lt. (j.g.) Ronald C. Ramsey, also was set back on the promotion list, which made it unlikely that he will ever get a command.

Ramsey, 24, of Long Beach, Calif., also was court-martialed before Capt. Keys, while the junior officer of the deck at the time of the collision, Lt. (j.g.) James A. Hopson, 29, of Kansas City, Kan., was not brought to trial but received a reprimand from the commander of the 7th Fleet.

Although the sentences of McLemore and Ramsey are subject to review by the navy, McLemore's trial presumably ended disciplinary action against those involved in the collision. The skipper of the Melbourne, Capt. John P. Stevenson, was acquitted by an Australian court-martial last month.

Today's Chuckle

He who laughs last is the one who intended to tell the story himself a little later.

THE SAVE OUR AIR COMMITTEE presented information and answered questions at a public meeting Monday night at Marco's. Among its members are (from left) John Walbridge, President Amer Pederson, Ray Sabuco, Mrs. Walbridge and Edwin Griffin. They asked support of an ordinance to control air pollution which has been submitted to the Delta County Board of Supervisors. Some of the estimated 400 persons attending are shown below. (Daily Press Photos)

Clean Air Is Goal:

Public Rallies In Support Of Delta Pollution Control

By CLINT DUNATHAN
Delta County citizens are keenly and actively interested in the preservation of the clean and healthful air for which the area is famous.

About 400 persons at last night's Save Our Air Committee meeting at Marco's stood and applauded the committee's efforts to protect the air from pollution through an ordinance which will come before the Delta County Board of Supervisors at 8 tonight in the County Building.

Get Sample Smell
The overflow crowd at the Save Our Air meeting stood in the street listening to public address systems until a thunderstorm dispersed them. Inside it was standing room only.

"If you think you want us to continue to work for you, stand up and give us your approval," said Ray Sabuco of the committee.

The standing round of applause followed.

The enthusiasm will become part of the growing record of national interest in pollution control, for CBS Television was on hand to film it. The report will be on CBS newscasts beginning Wednesday.

But TV audiences will not get the full effect of the Save Our Air meeting for at its conclusion hydrogen sulphide was released, carrying an odor similar to that permeating kraft paper mill communities.

It is this disagreeable odor, variously compared to rotten egg, skunk, and stewed cabbage, that the air pollution control ordinance is hoped to control.

Questions Answered

Amer Pederson, president of the Save Our Air group, described how the Save Our Air committee came into being and what it seeks to accomplish. Mead Corp.'s announcement that it is planning the construction of a kraft mill at Escanaba triggered concern that the odor would be harmful to the community.

Others of the Save Our Air Committee with Pederson and Sabuco were Mr. and Mrs. John Walbridge, Edwin J. Griffin, Dr. William Hemes, Dr. Leonard Vader, Bob Ferguson and William Taylor.

Questions in writing were invited from the audience and answered by committee members. This followed the showing of a film on pollution abatement at the national level distributed by the U. S. Senate Public Works Committee.

Walbridge read the proposed Delta County air pollution control ordinance, which the committee hopes may become a model law for the state and nation.

Before It Occurs

"I want to point out that our efforts are not aimed at the Mead Corp. but at air pollution—and our hope is that we can halt pollution before it occurs," Walbridge said.

The ordinance basically establishes controls for air pollution, provides for the appointment by the Board of Supervisors of a control board of local citizens, and would give a legal and orderly method of protecting the public health and welfare from air pollutants.

Sabuco called for public support of the ordinance in the interest of this and future generations.

Griffin of the committee, speaking on behalf of retired citizens and the tourist industry, said their "substantial investments" in the area are threatened by "a new polluting facility" and that the people of the county should have the right to determine for themselves by ordinance whether they want the "pollution facility" or the clean air.

Swedish Process

The question from the audience "are 100 persons coming in to Delta County more important than 100 who would move away?" was answered by Griffin:

"If the problem becomes one of die or move—there's not much choice and I know what I would do."

The committee was asked how many men will Mead employ, and Walbridge received no reply when he asked: "Is there anyone here from Mead to answer that one?"

The question "why not use the Swedish process" said to eliminate odors in kraft mills, was answered by Sabuco.

How Effective?

He reported on a meeting of the committee and Mead representatives and said the committee was told the effectiveness of that and any other process for kraft mill odor control is doubtful. He said the committee was told it might be between 50 and 100 per cent effective.

"So I don't know if it is going to stink every other day or stink every day half as much," Sabuco said.

Mrs. Walbridge read letters received by the committee from the west to the east coasts in support of the clean air campaign. The writers described broken promises of paper manufacturers to control air pollution, and damage done to property and health by pollutants in kraft paper mill areas.

Concluding the meeting Pederson said the committee agrees that progress cannot and should not be halted "but we can try to clean it up."

Food Assistance

CHICAGO, Ill. (AP) — More than 197,000 low-income persons in Michigan received food assistance from the U.S. Department of Agriculture during July, according to USDA official Dennis M. Doyle. Food Stamp programs in 49 distribution areas in Michigan provided 147,344 persons with food allowances. Counties joining that program in July included Baraga and Dickinson.

Timber Receipts From State Land Show Increase

The Department of Natural Resources foresters in the Upper Peninsula report timber sale receipts for August at $44,204 from 375 active timber permits.

This was an increase of slightly over $7,000 from the month of July this year and an increase of $8,000 over August of 1968. Foresters issued 23 new cutting permits on 1,930 acres of land that has an estimated value of $19,359.

The Baraga - Crystal Falls District foresters report that the market for pulpwood and hardwood logs remains good. The Escanaba District Foresters report the market for pulpwood continues good and a good market for cedar exists at present and it appears it will hold up for the remainder of the year. The pulp market for balsam is also good.

School Reform

Gov. William Milliken, as expected, revealed over the weekend at the Republican Leadership conference on Mackinac Island that an increase in the Michigan income tax will be included in his education reform proposals to the Michigan Legislature this fall.

The governor did not specify how much he would ask except to say that a rate of "eight to 10 per cent" would be "politically unsound." He tempered his proposal with the suggestion that the increase in the income tax be coupled with property tax relief. And so when the Legislature reconvenes next month, it will be faced with the task of writing another tax bill for Michigan.

To separate education reform and taxes is impossible. Dollars, unfortunately, hold the key to the educational process. Tax increases, however, are extremely unpopular.

Dr. Ira Polley, superintendent of public instruction for the state, testified before Milliken's Educational Reform Commission that the need for financial reform is the greatest problem confronting education in Michigan today.

"In the last five years, public school enrollment in Michigan has increased by 266,185," he said. "This fall, enrollment in public schools will increase another 47,000 pupils."

"You well know our millage and bonding election statistics," he added. "That vastly increased state participation in public school financing is imperative and so obvious as to be almost a truism. Growing deficits in some districts, and increasing costs in all districts, are additional reasons why full state funding of public education must be seriously considered at this point in time. Clearly, the federal government will also need to be encouraged to make massive increases in its investment in education."

Polley pointed out, of course, that state aid for education has been increasing, but not fast enough to cover the inflationary costs which have cut into education budgets just the same as into household budgets. He testified further that a new membership formula — the basis on which the state pays local districts — is needed and also, like Gov. Milliken, emphasized the need to take burden off the property tax.

"I am not necessarily suggesting abandonment of the property tax, any more than I am suggesting that negative voter response to millage or school bond pleas is repudiation of education," Polley said. "I am convinced, however, that now is the time for departure from strictures of the past, from clinging to the old ways. Some local school tax effort in Michigan is magnificent. Other cases are travesties on local, an equity and on need. We must face a basic fact: Less tax effort is not the answer. More equitable tax effort is."

Besides the financial problems of education in the state, there are other difficulties — some stemming from finances and some from other situations. Labor negotiations, for example, are getting more and more troublesome every year.

Michigan had hundreds of youngsters out of classrooms this fall because of teachers strikes. And this fall wasn't a bad one as the major improvement in state aid this year allowed many boards of education to come nearer meeting teacher demands than they might have been able to in other years.

Boards of Education, composed of individual citizens who serve without salary, are ill-equipped for the most part to cope with the demands of school unions which have progressed rapidly since Public Act 370 of 1965 allowed organization. School boards also are placed in the awkward position in many instances of bargaining over salaries without having funds to meet the costs. When millage requests are turned down locally, the total program suffers.

Gov. Milliken said his education reform package will include provisions for a foundation program, assuring that no school districts in the state would not be able to buy quality education like there are now. He indicated he would increase the role of the intermediate school districts in this program.

Polley, in his testimony, pointed to reorganization of school districts, evaluation and assessment of program, teacher training, vocational education, adult education, special education, compensatory education (pre-school and special programs, etc.) to overcome a child's environmental deficiencies) and student services as other areas where work is needed.

To work in all of those areas will be costly, particularly when the basic educational program of today is ill-financed. It may be too costly for the legislative blood.

Whatever the recommendations — educationally or financially — the fall session of the legislature will be stormy.

There is no question, however, that the time has come to do something. The present system has out-lived its effectiveness.

Peninsula Potpourri

The Kingsford City Council unanimously gave final approval to a plat for a new subdivision in Kingsford, Heights. The Iron Mountain Real Estate Co. plans to develop the area, known as the Pine Mountain View subdivision. It is comprised of 39 large lots.

In addition to their many other duties, members of city police departments — in Ironwood, at least — are expected to serve as consoling for the lovelorn. At 9:55 p. m. a woman phoned the police station in that city to report that a boy about 16 was walking up a street crying at the top of his voice. Thinking the youth might have been injured, police checked out the complaint and learned that the boy had been told by his girl friend to "get lost." He told police he was "all broken up over it."

Ernest H. Rankin, executive secretary of the Marquette County Historical Society, is resigning effective Oct. 1. Rankin has been actively identified with local and regional historical programs for many years and his resignation was accepted "with regret" by the Board of Directors. Mrs. Orville Bystrom was named acting executive secretary.

State College Officials Hope Calm Continues

By THOMAS D. ELIAS
Associated Press Writer

While student protest and riots rocked many college campuses across the nation last year, Michigan, with one exception, was left almost undisturbed.

Top administrators at the state's major colleges are hoping the relative calm they enjoyed last year will be repeated in the 1969-1970 academic year.

Most are optimistic but none is taking anything for granted.

"We are not looking for trouble," says Ferris State College President Victor Spathelf, whose campus experienced the state's most serious disturbances last year.

"We are not expecting trouble, but if it does appear, we shall deal with it promptly and firmly."

Ferris, in Big Rapids, was the scene in March and April of two takeovers of school buildings by Negro students who claimed they were in danger from white students who kept guns in their rooms.

Involves Students

Spathelf, however, said his college has made no major changes to try to prevent repetition of last year's troubles.

"There is no single action which a college can take to prevent trouble with certainty," he said. "We hope to involve the student body. Through its leadership echelons, to the fullest degree possible in eliminating potential difficulties at the grass roots levels."

Involvement of students in policy-making is the chief tactic used by most major Michigan colleges in the disturbance-prevention effort.

"Our basic object is to insure there is a channel of communication to review any issue brought before the university," said Alan Smith, vice president for academic affairs at the University of Michigan.

This tactic, Smith said, was "at least part of the reason" the U of M, home campus of Students for a Democratic Society, had no major demonstrations last year.

Difficult To Predict

Ann Arbor Police Chief Walter Krasny, responsible for campus security at Michigan, says "It's difficult to say at this point whether we'll have any problems."

"I think there's always a potential danger—if they decide that Ann Arbor is a place to hit, it will be. It is plain everyday police knowledge that student unrest is nationally coordinated," he adds.

"You have some students who are just interested in the issues," Krasny says. "And then you have the radical leader interested in coordinating disruption."

At Western Michigan University, President James Miller has said repeatedly he doesn't feel many of his students would qualify for the label "radical leader."

"I have great confidence in the young people attending WMU," Miller says, adding he believes most are serious students.

Western had one incident last April in which students were arrested on illegal assembly charges, but many of those charges were dropped later and now school spokesmen say they see few issues over which trouble could get started.

Commission Named

One issue students have demonstrated over in other states is expansion of college campuses into urban slums.

Detroit's Wayne State University is the only Michigan school threatened with trouble over this issue, but top officials say the danger of demonstrations over expansion is less this year than before.

"Protests over expansion are a problem we've had for a long time," said Wayne's vice president for academic affairs, Winfred Harbison.

"But most of our expansion program west of the John Lodge Freeway is now over. We are aware a big protest can happen at any time, though."

Wayne, like the U of M, is depending on gradual involvement of students in policy making to curb unrest.

"We've appointed a student commission on involving students in the decision-making process," Harbison said. "They will issue a final report soon and we're hoping this will satisfy a large part of the students."

"It will not satisfy the minority who think the university by its very nature isn't fulfilling the function it should and its won't satisfy SDS," Harbison said, "but anything we do can't possibly satisfy everybody."

A source of administrative headaches, if not actual demonstrations, has been The South

State, where State Police were called in to quell one demonstration last March, no major expansion of campus police forces has been made.

"We're not enlarging our campus security force beyond what we would normally do because of enlarged student enrollment and greater campus congestion," said Spathelf, whose campus police force is being increased from seven to nine men.

"As in the past, if we are required...we shall call upon local and state police resources. We hope that won't be necessary."

Security Boosted

Michigan State University Acting President Walter Adams said his school has "slightly increased" security forces in the wake of last April's Wilson Hall demonstration in which blacks took over a cafeteria, charging some persons working in it were being harassed by white supervisory personnel.

But Adams sees large-scale unrest as unlikely at MSU because "our student population is rather unique — we have a large percentage of National Merit Scholars. Our population is rather bookish in its attitude."

At U of M, where there is no campus police force as such, no new regulations are planned, through some lighting and security improvements have been made on campus as a result of the series of coed murders in Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti.

"We already have regulations that proscribe disruption or interference with operations of the university," said Smith. "We've got a case pending where a group of students who interfered with engineering recruiting are being tried by the student judiciary."

No New Rules

But Smith indicated the Ann Arbor campus won't have any major new regulations designed to combat demonstrations.

Police Chief Krasny added that he hasn't instituted any new enforcement procedures since last fall's off-campus demonstrations by welfare mothers and some students.

"I think we have to evaluate the instances as they come up, weigh circumstances as they come up where enforcement is concerned," Krasny said.

"Indications are the students are going to become a lot more militant this year than before, but we're not going to beat in heads for the sake of beating in heads."

Opening lead — five of hearts.

When a contract can be guaranteed by a particular method of play, it stands to reason that it would be wrong to adopt any other line of play that would jeopardize the contract. The principle is self-evident, but it is much easier to expound than apply.

Take this hand where West leads a heart and East produces the king. How should declarer play the hand?

If South proceeds without thought, he wins with the ace and leads a diamond to the queen, losing to the ace. Back comes a heart and West's suit becomes established. When it turns out that the diamonds are divided 4-1, South finishes down one because West has the ace of clubs as an entry for his hearts.

The result can be attributed to bad luck, no doubt, since it takes an unlikely combination of the East-West cards to defeat the contract, but this view is only partially correct.

This is one of those hands where declarer can control the outcome by playing his cards correctly, and luck is not properly a factor.

To insure the contract South wins the king of hearts with the ace, plays a spade to the king, and leads a low diamond from dummy. If East has the ace and goes up, South has at least nine tricks. If East has the ace and does not up, South wins with the jack and forces out the ace of clubs to guarantee nine tricks.

If West has the ace of diamonds, he cannot effectively return a heart after winning the jack. Anything else West returns gives declarer time to build up his clubs before the hearts can be established.

Superficially, it does not seem important whether the first diamond lead comes from declarer's hand or dummy's, but, actually, the contract stands or falls on this one decision.

Ann Reveals Facts On Sex Education

Dear Ann Landers: Where do you stand on sex education in the public schools? Some of my friends say it gives kids ideas and leads them into doing things they have no business doing. My sister-in-law in Michigan is horrified at what her children were taught last year in sixth grade. She described the literature (complete with pictures) as "disgusting and filthy."

Yesterday I received a mailing from Dallas that knocked me off my chair. It said this whole campaign for sex education is being pushed by a Communist-backed organization called SIECUS — (Sex Information and Education Council of the United States).

According to this article, SIECUS was founded by Mary Calderone, a woman from the East who goes around giving dirty lectures at prep schools. The article ended up saying the movement is a plot to weaken our country so the Commies can come in and take over. What is SIECUS? Who is Mary Calderone? Do you believe children should be given sex education in the public schools? If so, at what age? I am confused and frightened. My husband and I have faith in your judgement. Will you guide us? — Sun-Times Readers

Dear Readers: Mary Calderone is a Quaker, a Vassar graduate, a physician, the daughter of the famous photographer, Edward Steichen, and the wife of Dr. Frank Calderone formerly with the World Health Organization. She has three daughters and two teen-age grandsons. Dr. Calderone was the National Director of Planned Parenthood and founded SIECUS in 1964.

SIECUS is a non-profit health agency made up of religious, medical, educational and other professional leaders. Among organizations supporting sex education in the schools are the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, The American Public Health Association, The American Medical Association and the National Parent-Teachers Association. Father James T. McHugh, director of the Family Life Division of the U.S. Catholic Conference described most of the critics of SIECUS as members of radical rightwing organizations — masquerading under high sounding names.

Our children are getting "sex education" every day of their lives whether we like it or not, and much of the education is the wrong kind. They are being stimulated and titillated by TV, advertising, radio, records, magazines, billboards and movies. Sex is presented as glamorous, fun — the "in thing."

Children must be taught early (fifth grade is not too soon) that sex is not something people do for kicks — that every sex act carries with it a solemn responsibility, not only to the person with whom he is having sexual relations, but to one's family and one's community.

The ideal place for sex education is at home. Unfortunately the vast majority of parents are ill-equipped to do the job because they are uninformed, and unable to discuss sex comfortably and objectively with their children. I have seen the SIECUS material and while I feel that some of it is a shade too graphic, a great deal of it has merit. As with any new program, mistakes will be made, but I firmly believe our children need this program. They are bound to profit from it by learning to accept their sexuality as a normal, healthy, positive, uplifting force in their lives.

Atomic Age No-Man's Land Prepared For Homecoming

BIKINI ATOLL (AP) — The first no-man's land of the atomic age is ready to welcome back its people.

The Atomic Energy Commission reports this isolated Pacific atoll, ravaged by a dozen years of nuclear testing, has less radioactivity today than the U.S. mainland.

"We can't say there is absolutely no radiation danger," says AEC physicist Tommy McCraw, "but if there is we can't find it."

McCraw was among a team of experts who toured the blasted atoll recently with a group of American and foreign newsmen. He said his atomic counter showed only faint signs of radioactivity, "less than in Denver, Colo."

Foliage Returns

Stripped of vegetation and badly scarred by 23 thermonuclear detonations between 1946 and 1958, the islands have sloughed off all visible effects of their former devastation.

Lush foliage has returned to the meager string of islands, some 2,500 miles west of Hawaii, and its lagoons are swimming pools clear and bountiful.

The rusted scrap metal and debris that littered the white sand beaches for more than 20 years are gone. A small force of U.S. military and civilian workers has been cleaning up the atoll since mid-February.

The 167 Bikinians who were evacuated amid weeping farewells on March 7, 1946, have since grown to 550 and most are eager to return.

The displaced Bikinians have been eking out a living on the tiny island of Kili, in the southern Marshalls.

Islanders Earn $20,000

Although rich in rainfall, Kili has no lagoon or sheltered sea approach. The islanders have been earning about $20,000 annually through the sale of copra and ladies' handbags made of coconut fiber.

Thirty Bikinians will arrive here next month to help plant coconuts, breadfruit and pandanus, making ready for the return of the others.

McCraw, 41, of Germantown, Md., said considerable testing has been conducted to determine the extent of lingering radioactivity.

"There is virtually no radiation left," he said, "and we can find no discernible effect on either plant or animal life."

McCraw used an atomic counter to sample radioactivity on the island of Aitukiraru, across the channel from Enyu in the atoll's southern complex where 13 nuclear shots were fired from barges and air drops.

Little Radioactivity

It registered slightly below two microroentgens.

"An average reading on the U.S. mainland," he said, "would range from 10 to 20 microroentgens."

McCraw said the reason for the low reading is that Bikini atoll rose from living coral reefs and has little naturally occurring radioactivity.

Responsibility for restoring and resettling Bikini atoll is shared by the Department of Defense, the AEC and the Interior Department.

The cleanup began Feb. 17 under the direction of the Defense Atomic Support Agency.

They established a tent city on Enyu, second largest island in the atoll, and within a week had cleared the tangle of scrub vegetation from the island's 4,600-foot airstrip, unused for a decade.

The first phase of the $3.3 million restoration project was the removal of scrap metal and other industrial junk.

Three hundred truckloads of scrap, all of it rusted or radioactive, were dumped into the sea or buried.

Salvageable scrap, including more than 100 miles of copper cable which link all of the atoll's 25 islands, will be left for the Bikinians to use or sell.

When the DASA task force completes its work on Oct. 1, the Bikinians will fall heir to the tent city, the airstrip, a harbor, two barges and three landing craft.

George Nakanishi, 48-year-old Hawaiian who serves as district director of agriculture for the U.S. trust territory, has set up a coconut nursery which eventually will yield 100,000 coconut palms to be replanted on the islands of Bikini and Enyu.

"Under the Japanese administration prior to 1945," says Nakanishi, "the Bikinians were producing 30 tons of copra annually. This total should rise to 30 tons a month within the next 10 years."

Copra, dried coconut meat, brings $100 a ton.

The U.S. government plans to build a school house, a community house and a warehouse for the Bikinians. A refurbished chapel already is in use on Enyu.

Also on the drawing boards are 60 three-bedroom homes the government will build for the returning islanders.

Bikini leaders asked that they be of cinderblock construction with aluminum roofs.

"Permanency is what they want," Nakanishi said. "Something solid."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The parent companies of the Los Angeles Times and the Dallas Times Herald have agreed to a merger involving the exchange of nearly $91 million worth of stock.

Under the agreement, the Times Mirror Co. of Los Angeles will issue 1.8 million shares of convertible preferred stock to Times Herald shareholders in exchange for the Texas company's assets. The agreement requires approval of both companies' stockholders and the Federal Communications Commission.

The Times Herald Printing Co. operates KRLD-TV, and KRLD-AM-FM in addition to publishing an evening and Sunday paper.

Times Mirror is involved in publishing, printing and forest products. It owns no TV or radio stations.

Dr. Franklin D. Murphy, chairman of the Times Mirror Co., revealed each share will carry a 70-cent annual dividend and will be convertible into 1.11 shares of Times Mirror common stock.

Murphy said in a statement the Times Herald Printing Co. would operate under its present management as an autonomous subsidiary of Times Mirror.

Area Schools Up Enrollment

Enrollment figures of the Escanaba Area Public Schools at the end of the second week of school (Friday, Sept. 12) show a marked increase over those figures reported after the first day of classes, but still lag behind the projected figure that was expected.

"The first day's figures are always low as they do not reflect a total kindergarten enrollment. Also, usually many children are late in enrolling because of family vacations and sickness," said superintendent Luther Barrett.

"The total enrollment climbed to 4,698 students as of last Friday," Barrett reported.

This is an increase from last year's official figure of 4,652. The superintendent said he expected to have even more additions before the official count date of Sept. 26.

Figures Listed

By schools, enrollments so far this year, with last year's figures in parentheses, are as follows: Soo Hill, 246 (255), down 9; Wells, 266 (293), down 27; Cornell, 55 (53), up 2; Webster, 344 (335), up 9; Washington, 201 (234), down 33; Franklin, 252 (285), down 33; Lemmer, 520 (510), up 10; New Jefferson, 229 (216), up 13; Pine Ridge, 87 (81), up 6; Ford River, 228 (243), down 15; Old Jefferson, 129 (—), up 129; Junior High, 690 (721), down 31; and Senior High, 1,451 (1,426), up 25.

Barrett explained that enrollments are down in the Soo Hill Wells and Franklin Schools because many students were transferred from these schools to the Old Jefferson when it was re-activated this fall term.

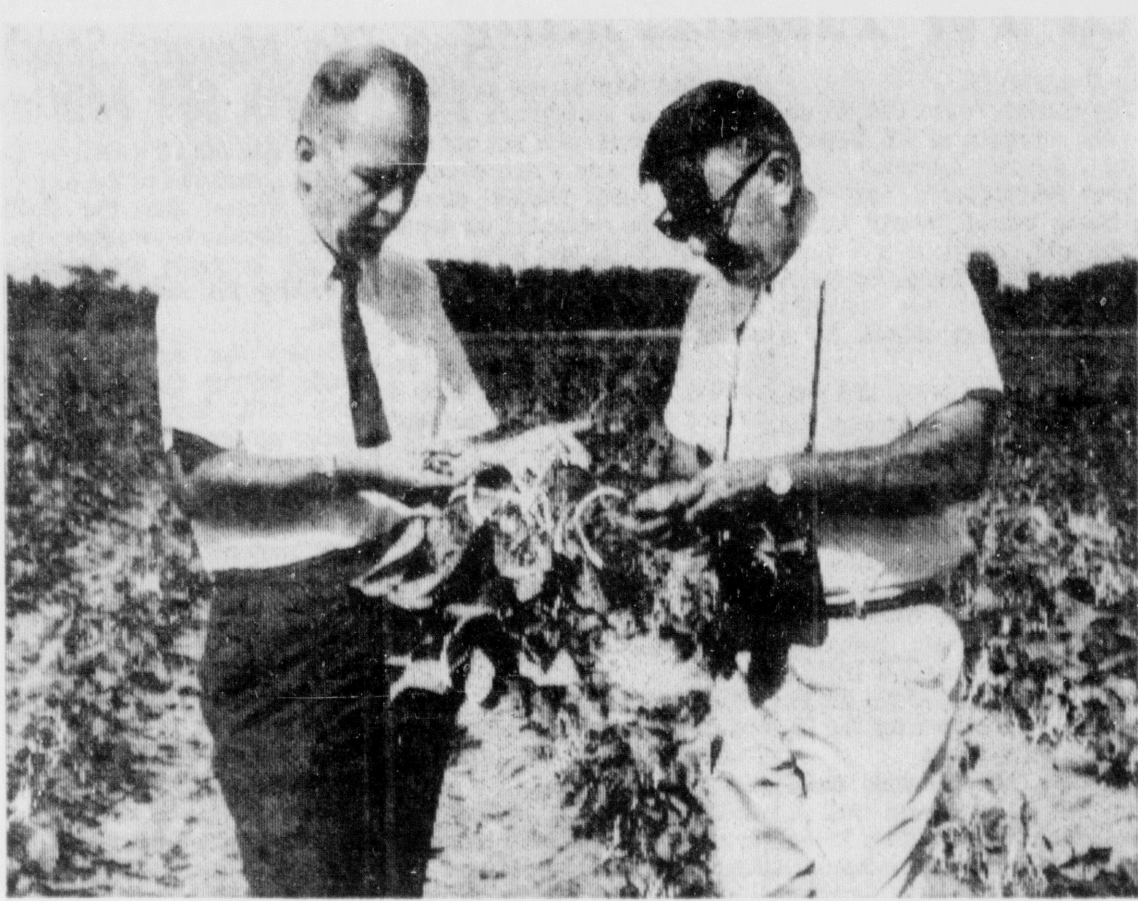

"The enrollment in the Junior High is down because last year's 6th grade moved into the 7th grade and is considerably smaller than the 8th grade that moved to the High School," Barrett said.

Urges Registration

He added that ordinarily the projection for enrollment for this year would have been 4,700 but with increased industrial and construction activity in the community it was thought a 4,750 figure would be met. "The increase from this source has failed to materialize," Barrett stated.

"State Aid to schools is based on the total enrollment figure reached on the fourth Friday of the school year," Barrett said. "Any parents having children who have not as yet been enrolled for this school year should bring them in to register before this date," he urged.

Ancient herbalists believed that sage, now a staple in many dressings, improved the memory and assured long life. Doctors at Salerno, the great medieval school of medicine, asked, "How can a man die who grows sage in his garden?"

BEAN SEED PRODUCTION in the Fayette area of Delta County is "encouraging" according to a report following an inspection of the bean fields there by Dr. Deran Markarian (right) research director, and Hugh Cummings, vice president, of Certus-Burns Inc., Rochester, N. Y. They were accompanied by Michigan State University representatives. Certus-Burns is hopeful of contracting beans in that area after the hurdle of harvesting and handling in storage is cleared. (J. ## Upper Peninsula Banks Purchase College Bonds

Fifteen Upper Peninsula banks spear-headed by the First National Bank and Trust Co., of Escanaba purchased a $525,000 bond issue Monday night for Bay de Noc Community College.

The bond issue will be used to finance construction of new campus buildings.

John Greene, president of the First National Bank and Trust Co., submitted the bid at an interest rate of 6%. No other bids were received.

College officials formally expressed great appreciation for the action by the banks, and the enthusiasm of banking leaders, including Sam Cohodas, board chairman of the First National Bank.

It was recognized that the bond market presently involves much higher interest rates than the maximum legal limit of 6% allowed on this issue. Many similar issues are not attracting any bids.

Banks Cooperate

The college recognized that the bid was made as an investment in the people of the Upper Peninsula, and was only possible due to the phenomenal cooperation and spirit of the 15 different banks, including all five banks in Delta County.

Bond proceeds will be used by the college to pay the local share of cost for the classroom - library building, a health education - convocation building, and a campus center. The classroom-library building bids for construction will begin immediately. The health education building includes a gymnasium for the teaching of physical education, related classrooms and offices.

Overhaul Of FTC Suggested

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American Bar Association commission says the Federal Trade Commission needs a drastic overhaul—and recommends, as a first step, it get rid of eight-year chairman Paul Rand Dixon.

Dixon, whose tenure is the longest in the FTC's history, had no comment when the report came out Monday. The report, requested by President Nixon last April, has yet to be submitted to the bar association's officers for approval.

In the report, all but one of the 16 ABA commission members accused the FTC of ineptness in consumer protection and a preoccupation with trivia.

The lone dissenter, University of Chicago law professor Richard A. Posner, contended the FTC should be abolished.

The others were willing to give the FTC another chance, but added: "If change does not occur, there will be no substantial purpose to be served by its continued existence; the essential work to be done must then be carried on by other governmental institutions."

The report said Dixon's chairmanship has resulted in "bitter public displays of dissension among commissioners" which have demoralized staff members and "left enforcement activity largely aimless."

Marina Payment

PETOSKEY (AP) — A representative of the Federal Economic Development Administration handed over a check for $116,000 Monday as the government's first payment to help meet the cost of a new marina in Petoskey.

The marina, which will have 95 boat slips and several launching ramps, was built after the state planted Coho fingerlings in the Bear River at Petoskey last spring.

Common Market Schedules Meet

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The six countries of the European Common Market have agreed to hold a summit meeting on letting Britain and other candidates join.

Ireland, Denmark and Norway have also applied for membership. Sweden is interested too.

The summit meeting will be held at The Hague, Nov. 17-18.

Former President Charles de Gaulle of France twice vetoed Britain's efforts to join the organization.

It is expected that President Georges Pompidou will attend the summit meeting for France, as well as Premier Jacques Chaban-Delmas.

Man Appointed

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has reappointed Dr. Aloysius Church of Detroit to a new term on the State Advisory Board of Alcoholism. The term will end Sept. 30, 1972. The reappointment requires Senate confirmation.

Sharks Dining On Laundry Shake 'Salt' From Sailor

SAN SALVADOR, Bahamas (AP) — Bill Verity says one of the big annoyances on a solo small sailboat crossing the Atlantic is the tendency of sharks to dine on your laundry.

Verity also notes that a steady diet of dolphin, while nourishing, is likely to slim down the human body—in his case, from 195 to 165 pounds.

Reminiscing on his 114-day voyage from Ireland in a 20-foot craft, the 43-year-old former boat builder of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., remarked:

"I was off the coast of Spain the first time I lost a pair of trousers. It happened every time I towed my clothes to wash them. Sharks stole them all the time."

Verity finished his crossing at the end of an oil tanker's tow line Saturday. He made the trip to demonstrate that an Irish monk named Brendan the Bold could have discovered America in the sixth century after spanning the sea in a cockleshell, as legend says he did.

The lone sailor said his worst experience on the trip was getting caught in an electrical storm with "lightning bolt after lightning bolt striking the water — it was so close I could smell it."

At one point his rudder fell

State Gets Grant For Lakes Study

LANSING (AP) — Michigan has received a $40,000 grant for use in studying pesticides in the Great Lakes. The grant from the U.S. Department of the Interior answers a request for $200,000 for the Great Lakes basin. Gov. William Milliken is chairman of the five-state governor's conference on pesticides which made the request.

Park Vandalism

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Incidents of vandalism in Grand Rapids parks have increased by more than 100 per cent over 1968 and Park Supt. Fred See wants a special five-man park police force created to stop the vandalism.

See reported to the city manager Monday that there were 103 incidents of park vandalism through July 1 of this year and some of the cases may not have been reported. The city has more than 30 parks.

The storming of the Bastille, July 14, 1789, was not really conceived as a heroic attack against a ruthless king; the mob was merely looking for arms and ammunition.

Logger Finds Bear A Ticklish Problem

CRYSTAL FALLS — Androcles, the Roman slave who extracted a large thorn from the swollen paw of a wild lion in a cave in Africa, has a counterpart in Northern Michigan.

He is Frank Stebbins, a logger in Amasa in Iron County who also traps coyotes.

The other day a 90-pound bear put one of its rear paws in one of Stebbins' coyote traps, and that's when Stebbins went into his Androcles act.

According to Oscar Sundquist of Crystal Falls, district law supervisor for the Department of Natural Resources, this is how the drama unfolded:

While checking his trapline, Stebbins came upon the bear and discovered the animal had dragged the trap a short distance from the set before the grapple caught on some underbrush and anchored the bruin. Stebbins wanted to get the bear out of the trap without shooting it. But he didn't want to get clawed and bitten in the process. Even a bear weighing only 90 pounds is equipped to perform rapid surgery on people. Stebbins decided on a bold experiment.

Armed only with a five-foot branch, he approached quite close to the bear, which by now was thrashing about vigorously in anger and/or fear. Stebbins waited until the animal calmed down somewhat and then began to scratch the bear behind the ears with the tip of the branch.

Stebbins swears the bear became completely docile when stroked with the branch. In fact Stebbins says the bear rolled over on its back and covered its eyes with its front paws.

This enabled Stebbins to unfasten the grapple from the trap chain. But when the bear felt the release of the pressure it started straining against the chain again—and now the chain was being grasped by Stebbins to prevent the bear from fleeing with its foot still in the trap. Quite a predicament.

Stebbins resolved it by bringing the branch into play again. After some further massaging behind the ears, the bear once again lay down. That gave Stebbins just enough time to stand on the springs of the trap and release the jaws, permitting the bear to pull its foot free.

The bear ran about 40 yards to a railroad crossing and paused to look back at Stebbins—much as the lion must have looked at Androcles—before disappearing into the woods.

ROTC Protest Falls Through

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Following a warning of civil and criminal prosecution from University of Michigan President Robben W. Fleming, anti-war protesters were unable to muster sufficient forces to disrupt military science classes Monday as they had vowed to do.

A group of students have been trying since last week to drive the Reserve Officer Training Corps classes off campus through continual harassment.

However, Monday's failure to get 200 supporters to risk prosecution for class disruption has left the future of the protest in doubt.

Some 40 demonstrators entered the ROTC building on the University of Michigan campus Monday as planned, but after some scuffling with photographers and general confusion, the protesters left the building when they were warned they faced arrest.

Many of those who entered the building Monday covered their faces with handkerchiefs, books, jackets and long hair to avoid photographs with which university officials might be able to identify them.

Fleming said last week that 15 students who took part in the first ROTC demonstrations Thursday had been identified by photographs and that disciplinary action is being considered against them.

Fleming said both he and the protesters were awaiting the recommendation of a study of ROTC by the academic affairs committee of the faculty assembly. It is due Oct. 1.

"There are many deeply committed people with very strong and honestly held opinions about ROTC," the university president said.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

London Hippies Now Neighbors Of Queen

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II and the London Hilton have some new neighbors—more than 100 hippies squatting in a mansion between Buckingham Palace and Hyde Park.

Calling themselves the London Street Commune, the out-of-work youths have taken over No. 144 Piccadilly, an elegant stone house with 60 rooms, high ornamented ceilings, delicate ironwork and a grand staircase.

The Queen's parents used to live next door at No. 145 when they were Duke and Duchess of York.

"It's such a good area," said one of the hippies as he took newsmen on a tour of inspection. "We don't expect any trouble from our neighbors, what with the Palace and the Hilton."

The house was scheduled for demolition. The squatters moved in by an open side door and immediately barricaded all ground floor doors and windows to prevent eviction. Then they hoisted their red and white flag.

"You must excuse us, we've only just moved in," apologized one of the hippies as he took in the dirty cavernous rooms and gloomy labyrinth of corridors.

The hippies said the house would provide an admirable base for drifters from all parts of the world who converge on London with no money and few possessions.

"Homeless families are welcome to join us," said a spokesman, "but no tramps or meths drinkers. They would give us a bad name."

Between 30 and 40 young girls are among the squatters. One said her name was Gloria, she was 18 and was a strip-tease dancer out of work.

"Times are hard, and I'll stay here until I get work again," she said.

The police can't shift the squatters because under laws of 1381 and 1391 it is an offense for anyone to use force to break into private property, even to evict trespassers, without a court order.

"This is entirely a civil matter for the owners," said Scotland Yard.

The development company which owns the property and wants to build a hotel on it, said: "Until we know what is going on, we cannot decide what action to take."

The squatters armed themselves with fire extinguishers, and a spokesman declared: "We shall fight any attempt at eviction."

University Honors Escanaba Native On Retirement

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. — A Penn State zoologist who almost 25 years ago was one of the first scientists to point out the dangers of indiscriminate use of pesticides to aquatic life has retired with the rank of professor emeritus of zoology.

He is Dr. Bertil G. Anderson, a native of Escanaba, who demonstrated in 1945 that one part per billion of DDT — the equivalent of a pound of DDT in a 38-acre pond 10 feet deep—killed Daphnia, near microscopic arthropod on which many fish depend for food.

Dr. Anderson pioneered development of a bioassay method for the evaluation of the toxicity of various substances to aquatic animals, using Daphnia as the experimental animal.

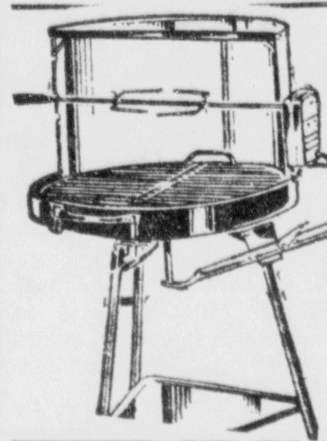

He came to Penn State in 1953 as professor and head of the Dept. of Zoology and Entomology in the College of Agriculture.

Dr. Anderson is married to the former Lorraine Ossian and they have three children, all of whom have earned college degrees.

2 Men Convicted Of 'Bombing' Fish

MANISTEE (AP)—Two Manistee men have been convicted on charges of using explosive devices to catch fish. William Johnson, 30, and Jerry Norman, 30, were arrested last March following an explosion at a fish station on the Little Manistee River. Maximum penalties are $300 in fines and 120 days in jail. Both men are now free on $300 bond pending sentencing Oct. 13.

Official Raps FTC's Handling Of Auto Pricing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A California deputy attorney general urged the Federal Trade Commission today to require auto makers to put actual price tags on their cars.

"We are totally convinced that if any one knows how much cars cost, they are not saying," Charles A. O'Brien said in testimony prepared for an FTC hearing on automobile pricing practices.

O'Brien described pending California suits against General Motors and Chrysler alleging false price advertising.

"General Motors," he charged, "puts price stickers on the windows of its cars with allegedly no reason to believe that they are the true prices," he said.

The Chrysler suit, he said, involves an advertised price for a sports car.

Auto makers, he said, with credit corporation affiliates know that their cars are not being sold at the prices on the window stickers.

Pentagon Steps Up War On Narcotics, Home Raids

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's proposed tactics in its stepped-up war on narcotics—including the legalizing of "no knock" drug raids—was laid before Congress Monday by Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

Mitchell's proposals for new legislation include a total ban on the manufacture, distribution and sale of marijuana, LSD and heroin, drugs he said have no recognized medical use.

Mitchell's testimony followed the Justice Department disclosure over the weekend of an all-out effort to stop the flow of illegal drugs from Mexico.

Mitchell told the Senate's juvenile delinquency subcommittee, prison is not necessarily the logical penalty for all convicted of using or dealing in illegal drugs.

Threat To Health

He proposed laws which differentiate clearly between criminal elements distributing dangerous drugs, drug addicts and the increasing number of young people experimenting in the drug scene on a casual basis.

"I cannot overestimate to you the threat that narcotics and dangerous drugs pose to the mental and physical health of the nation—especially to our young people . . .," Mitchell said.

He called enactment of the administration drug bill which would use the power to control interstate commerce to put the squeeze on illegal drug traffic.

Among other things it would set up a sliding scale of drug control with heroin, marijuana and LSD banned and other drugs limited to purely medical use.

Agents Given Free Hand

The administration bill also would allow agents of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics "to enter places where drugs are illegally sold or stored without knocking, but only when given advance authority by a magistrate," Mitchell said.

"All too frequently," he said, "violators are able to destroy contraband drugs while officers executing a search warrant are going through the presently required process of knocking and announcing their authority and purpose."

43,000 Under 18

John E. Ingersoll, director of the Narcotics Bureau, testified 162,177 persons—of whom more than 43,000 were under the age of 18—were arrested by state and local police for narcotic and marijuana violations in 1968. He said this represented a 322 per cent increase since 1960.

"There is little doubt that addiction and drug abuse have reached epidemic proportions over the last several years," Ingersoll said.

The government hopes to stem the increasing flow of illegal drugs and narcotics from Mexico with stiffer border inspection, specially equipped airplanes and closer cooperation with the Mexican government.

Sen. Griffin Reluctantly Backs Judge

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) —Michigan Sen. Robert Griffin, announced his reluctant support Sunday of federal Judge Clement Haynsworth as a justice of the U.S. Supreme Court and predicted his confirmation by the Senate.

Griffin, who led the successful fight to block the confirmation of former Justice Abe Fortas as chief justice of the Supreme Court, noted that President Nixon appointed the South Carolina judge several weeks ago.

"If you think my silence until now has been interpreted as meaning that I am not overjoyed by the appointment, you're absolutely right," Griffin told several hundred Michigan Republicans gathered on Mackinac Island for a three-day leadership conference.

"I don't agree with some of the views of Judge Haynsworth," he said. "His views on civil rights do not coincide exactly with mine. But he is not a hard-core segregationist as he has been portrayed."

Griffin noted that hearings on the confirmation were to begin this week in Washington. "I shall withhold final judgment until all the facts are in," he said, "but on the basis of all the knowledge I have today, I predict that Judge Haynsworth's appointment will be confirmed with my support."

Griffin said he had delayed announcing his feelings about nomination because of a charge of conflict of interest leveled against Haynsworth.

The charge concerned a case Haynsworth helped decide in South Carolina in 1963 involving a dispute between a labor union and Deering-Miliken Co., a textile firm. The union had charged Haynsworth with conflict noting that he held stock in a company which does business with Deering-Miliken.

Haynsworth had no stock in the company directly involved in the dispute, Griffin said. Some 3 per cent of the gross sales of the company in which he did hold stock came from vending machines placed in the Deering-Miliken plants, the senator added.

Airlines Eying $400 Million Haul

WASHINGTON (AP) — The domestic airline industry is prepared to apply for fare adjustments expected to increase their annual revenues by more than $400 million.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, which suggested a fare formula that would relate fares more closely to costs and to values of different types of service, has given the airlines until Wednesday to file new tariffs that would become effective Oct. 1.

Airlines that have not filed by Wednesday could do so later, but their new fares could not go into effect until 14 days thereafter.

The CAB estimated that the trunk airline fares, under the formula, would increase about 6.35 per cent, or by more than $300 million on the basis of $4.7 billion in revenues for the 11 domestic trunks for the fiscal year ending June 30.

Fact-Finder Reports On Big Bay School Dispute

A dispute has been raging for several months between the Big Bay de Noc School Board and the Big Bay de Noc Education Association, a teachers' group.

Last week, the teachers charged the Big Bay Board with unfair labor practice for what they called "failing to bargain and refusing to honor an allegedly signed contract."

Prior to this hearing, the teachers met with the Board in a fact-finding session to iron out their differences. This session was held on Sept. 1 at the Nahma School, and at this meeting both parties aired their views.

Appointed fact-finder by the Michigan Employment Relations Department was James T. Dunne.

Dunne today released his report and recommendations to the parties.

He reported that the parties failed to meet between April of 1969 and July 21. "On July 21, representatives of the school board, the superintendent, and the bargaining team of the Association met with Walter Quillico, mediator for the State. The following, presented as an exhibit by the Association and dated July 21, 1969, is an exact statement of the agreement reached between the school district's negotiating team and the Association's bargaining unit. All names of both teams and that of Quillico appear on the document:

Contract?
"Garden School July 21, 1969 $229,000 Base not to exceed $6,500.
5,580 Insurance not to exceed $5,580.
2,000 Substitute pay.
2,400 Extra curricular not to exceed $2,400.
$239,680 Total Package
Non-degree between $5,000 minimum, $6,000 maximum."
"It was understood at that time that the teachers were to ratify the lump sum amounts and the limitations contained in the above quoted document at a membership meeting on Monday, July 28. On that date, the membership did ratify the above quoted proposal. It was also understood that the teachers were to prepare a schedule whose cost for each of the above quoted items would not exceed the amounts specified in the signed document. The teachers did this," Dunne said.

Board Withdraws Offer
"It appears, however, that after the School Board's negotiating team made the above commitment, they decided for reasons not entirely clear to the fact-finder that they would not honor it. A special meeting of the Board was called on or about Aug. 25, which was not publicized, following which the Association was notified by letter dated Aug. 25, signed by the President of the School Board, Carl Van Remortel that the Board was withdrawing the above quoted offer," Dunne reported in his findings.

He said that no reason was given in the letter for such withdrawal, nor did the School Board make a request of the Association that future meetings be held to discuss either the reasons for withdrawal of the offer or to negotiate with the Board concerning an alternative offer.

"Accordingly, and following receipt of the letter, the Association requested fact-finding. A charge of unfair labor practices was also filed at or about the same time as request for fact-finding, but that fact is merely stated as a fact and has nothing to do with this report or recommendations. A request for fact-finding was made on Aug. 14. The fact-finder was presented by the Association with a fully developed schedule which admittedly falls within the dollar limitations contained in the above quoted proposal made before and signed by Mr. Quillico," Dunne said in his report.

Cost of Package
"The cost of the teachers' economic package for 1968-69 compared to the 1969-70 package based on the Board's retracted offer is as follows:

1969-70 $232,774 (Taking account of 1 vacancy to be filled)
1968-69 $191,903. Total $40,-871.

To meet this added cost there will be a total of $83,917 computed by the Association as derivable from the following:
Increase in Revenue $26,556
Decrease in Expenditures 14,268
General Fund Equity 43,093
Total $83,917

On the above basis the Association computes the percentage cost of the teachers' total package (based on the retracted offer) as 68% of total revenue," Dunne said.

He added that in arriving at its salary schedule based on the Board's retracted offer the Association included in the salary schedule cost computation that portion of the Superintendent's and High School Principal's salary attributable to teaching as well as three non-degree teachers two at $6,000; one at $5,500. "On this basis the total salary cost would be $223,154, or if the one vacancy is filled, $229,700, the exact amount of the Board's retracted offer on salaries. The insurance, substitute teachers, and extra curricular items exactly equalled the Board's retracted offer," Dunne reported.

Recommendation
In his recommendation, Dunne said that the Association

AVION TRAVELCADE CLUB'S Michigan Unit, at a state rally in Escanaba last weekend, donated its Sunday church service collection to the Escanaba Better Hearing and Speech Society. ## Arctic Passage Trip Encouraging

NEW YORK (AP) — The SS Manhattan's voyage through the Northwest Passage turned up nothing to discourage the hopes of its sponsor for year-round use of the Arctic waters by commercial shipping.

"We are still shooting for a year-around capability and have seen nothing in the last two weeks to change our objectives," said Stan Haas, project manager for Humble Oil & Refining Co.'s Arctic expedition.

Haas spoke Monday after the 115,000-ton tanker arrived in Sachs Harbor on Banks Island in Canada's Northwest Territories.

Then the ship headed for Barter Island, Alaska, the last stop before her destination at Point Barrow and the 49th state's North Slope where an estimated 10 billion barrels of oil lie beneath the tundra.

Humble said that it will wait until after the Manhattan returns on Nov. 10 to make a preliminary judgment on whether a commercial route through the Northwest Passage is possible.

Year round shipping through the Northwest Passage could lead to a restructuring of the world trade patterns, a $2 billion shipping boom in the United States and a new frontier in the Arctic.

Trout Festival

KALKASKA (AP) — The Kalkaska National Trout Festival, one of the largest annual events in northern Michigan, has apparently run into difficulties.

After failing to set a date for the next festival, a spokesman said a decline in contributions and lack of interest by area residents are among the festival organizers' major problems. The event has not been officially cancelled.

Daughters Get Parent's Backing Over Skirt Rule

MONTESANO, Wash. (AP) — Two parents say that in setting rules on skirt lengths the school board should have taken into consideration that girls come in different shapes and sizes.

The parents, Marchel Schoch and Charles Craig, said their daughters have been sent home from Montesano High School for violation of the school board's order that high school girls' dresses should not be higher than five inches above their knees when they kneel.

The fathers seek an injunction to prevent the board from enforcing the regulation. A hearing has been set for Friday.

Superintendent Explains Action On Name Change

Wesley Fleet, superintendent of schools, appealed to the members of the newly-organized Gladstone PTA to support changing the name of the Buckeye School to North Elementary School when he spoke to the membership Monday night at the James T. Jones school.

Controversy has arisen among people in the Buckeye area since the Board of Education approved the name change at its last meeting.

"I wish to set the record clear concerning the controversy that has developed from changing the name of the Buckeye Elementary School to North Elementary school," Fleet said. "At no time have I or the Board of Education made negative or derogatory statements when discussing the people residing in the Buckeye area or the area itself."

"I have had nothing but praise for the cooperation received from these people," he continued. "For this I am very appreciative."

Changes Detailed

"As your school superintendent, I feel that every child in the Gladstone school district should be given equal educational opportunity regardless of where in the community they might live or school building they attend," he said. "The Board of Education and I have worked very diligently to accomplish this end."

"To support this feeling, please note the following improvements made this school year affecting the children residing in the Buckeye area and/or those attending school in the Buckeye Building:

1. Elimination of all rooms with two grades and one teacher (There were six grades involved in the school last year);
2. Reduced class sizes to reasonable numbers so that teachers will have time to work with every individual student;
3. A remedial reading teacher is now in the building one morning per week;
4. We have placed four of our most capable teachers in the building;
5. There is now a library being developed in the building;
6. An aide has been placed in the building to supervise students while the teachers work with slower learners. This person also supervises on the playground, on the bus and during lunch;
7. Hot lunch is now available to all youngsters in the building;
8. Our new elementary principal coordinates the total program in this building with the other elementary building;
9. The lighting in each classroom has been increased from two to six four-tube fluorescent units. There is 200 per cent more lighting in each room;
10. The dark woodwork in each room has been refinished, making each room much brighter. All floors also have been refinished;
11. Approximately two thirds of the classroom furniture in the building has been replaced;

12. The former Buckeye and Central PTAs have merged and now work as one organization for the best interest of all students in the district, including the high school.

"In August when our class and building schedules were being finalized a number of parents indicated they were not happy because their children were being placed in the Buckeye Building," Fleet said. "They felt the program and building were not equal to the Jones Elementary school. These comments came from parents living in both the Buckeye area and on this side of the city. After discussing the improvements being made, they agreed to give the school an honest try. I am pleased to report that everything has worked out in an excellent manner. The members of the board and I asked ourselves which is more important, the boys and girls in the district or the name of the building."

Best For Students

"If changing the name of this building will help the school do a more effective job for all students, then shouldn't a change receive some consideration?" he asked. "It bothers me deeply when every boy and girl is not given the very best we can offer because they are our kids and they deserve the best."

In conclusion, I wish to restate the fact that the Board of Education and I have not misused the word Buckeye or any people associated with it. We have dealt only with what is best for the students in our schools. Gladstone has a wonderful school system and your continued support is needed."

The program was presented by the administration staff.

Fleet introduced Gerald Danhoff, new elementary school principal; William Wood, secondary principal; Don Pfotenhauer, guidance director, and Robert Richards, Community School director, who reported on changes made in their departments.

Finances Excellent

Fleet said the school system is in excellent financial shape with a balance of $66,000 at the close of the 1968-69 year and that the district is operating well within the present budget.

Gladstone is one of the few school systems in the state of Michigan operating on as little as four extra-voted mills. He said 1,533 students are presently enrolled, 68 over last year, and encouraged parents to come to him with any suggestions they might have for improvement in the system. He said the school district is operating under an "open door" policy with anyone able to visit the classrooms at any time.

COLLEGIATE COMPUTER

— A totally computerized accounting system is providing a comprehensive monthly statement of services for students of Bowling Green State University in Ohio. Jane Angert, a junior, is looking over her schedule of classes for the fall quarter. After her course selections have been approved, the data will be entered into her student information file stored in an IBM computer.

Trade Barriers To Soviet Bloc Being Lowered

LONDON (AP) — The United States and 14 allied countries are lowering their barriers on exports of strategic products to the Soviet bloc. But the bans are staying up for trade with the Asian Communist governments and Albania.

Diplomats reported recently that concessions to be announced next month will not be extended to Communist China, to Albania, its only European ally, or to North Vietnam and North Korea.

The embargo on munitions and other war weapons remains.

Informants said the prospect of improved economic and political relations with the East European Communists, the diminishing technological gap between them and the Western powers, and the deep-seated allied suspicion of China's military intentions influenced the decision for to ease the controls.

Informants said the previously banned items which the Soviet bloc now will be able to buy include certain types of computers, rare metals and their alloys, chemical and petroleum equipment, a wide range of industrial, electrical and transport goods, and certain categories of electronic and precision instruments.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Permanent press clothes come out of an electric dryer ready to put right on, because electric dryers relax wrinkles.

What else makes the electric dryer the 2-to-1 choice of women? It costs less to buy, is economical to operate, and the few moving parts mean low maintenance. Another thing: with an electric dryer there's no flame, pilot, or flue.

Can you think of any better reasons to ask your appliance dealer about an electric clothes dryer?

This offer expires October 15 and is limited to UPPCO customers only

State Commerce Director Hears Plea For Roads

BY JEAN WORTH
SAULT STE. MARIE—Gov. William Milliken's new director of the Michigan Dept. of Commerce started a week's inspection of the Upper Peninsula economy here Monday with the words "highway development" ringing in his ears.

No other prescription was as insistent as the one for highway development as Richard E. Whitmer, director of the state's commerce department, met with officials of Sault Ste. Marie, Chippewa, Mackinac and Luce counties on Upper Peninsula economic needs.

The call for highway aid was specific.

Harold Dettman of St. Ignace, a motel operator who is chairman of the Mackinac County Board of Supervisors and a leader in regional development agencies, called for the four-laning of U.S. 2 from St. Ignace west on its present route and this became a theme song of discussions with Whitmer.

Need Tax Base
The plea for development of an adequate east-west highway in the U. P. on the present route of U. S. 2 urged the preservation of the Upper Peninsula's tax base as its second greatest need after the construction of developmental highways.

The developmental factor in highway construction was urged by all speakers because Upper Peninsulans appear to have become convinced that the state will never undertake any major highway construction in the peninsula under its present form of allocating construction funds where population is heaviest.

Only $60,000
Many speakers said the Upper Peninsula counties could cope with their needs of local government for better money if their taxing bases were not so steadily eroded by state and federal governments. Dettman said that when Interstate Highway I-75 was constructed in Mackinac County it removed

Grain Dust Blast Injures 6 Workers

ZILWAUKEE (AP) — Six workers were burned four of them critically, in a grain dust explosion Monday at a Farm Bureau processing plant in Zilwaukee, near Saginaw.

Saginaw County Sheriff's deputies said the blast apparently was caused when a spark inside a box car the men were unloading ignited part of the cargo of corn cob meal.

The four listed in critical condition had burns over 80 per cent of their bodies.

"Their clothes were all burning and they were all partially naked," said William E. Hamilton, 41, of Bay City, Mich., a warehouse superintendent for the Farm Bureau.

"A young fellow was lying on the ground in flames. I covered him with my shirt," Hamilton said.

Sheriff's deputies said sparks from the engine of a loader ignited some corn cob meal in the box car. The men inside the railroad car were shoveling the smoldering meal out of the side of the car, when grain dust in a pit exploded. It sent flames shooting to the top of the plant. Flames also blew metal plates and machinery off the roof.

Firemen, who battled the blaze for six hours, said a mill was destroyed and an elevator and warehouse were damaged extensively.

Advice Accepted

HARRISON (AP) — Police are searching today for a missing 36-foot house trailer in the central part of Michigan.

The unoccupied trailer, owned by William Pickett of Dundee, was parked just north of Harrison in Clare County.

Neighbors said the trailer had large, black letters on the side saying "Free, Take Me." Someone did.

$300,000 in property from tax rolls.

Chairman Robert McCraney of the Luce County Board of Supervisors said that Luce County gets $460,000 in property taxes on private lands, but that on public lands, which constitute 52 percent of the county, it receives only $60,000 in lieu of taxes from the state and federal governments.

He said that Luce County only has 7,000 population and has a high priority on federal aid, but cannot raise the 20 per cent local sponsor's fee to get the 80 per cent federal aid.

Industrial employment in Chippewa County (Sault Ste. Marie) has fallen so low that it has only one industry employing more than six or seven persons. This is Soo Hardwoods, Inc., which employs 60, said Robert MacDonald, head of the Soo Industrial Council.

He said the Soo has great dread of the planned closing of Kincheloe Air Force Base 20 miles from here in Oct., 1970. It cost $75 million and it pours more than $20 million a year into the local economy. The State Dept. of Commerce is trying hard to find a civilian use for the huge base with its 1,350 houses.

"In a year, they are going to shut down this fourth largest city in the Upper Peninsula," said Royce Curis, chairman of the Chippewa County Board of Supervisors.

He said that Kincheloe has a third of the county's population and all of its people are employed, including 300 civilian employees, in a county which has a winter unemployment rate of about 20 percent.

Suomi Pastor Taking Pasties To Colorado Site

HANCOCK (AP) — Dr. Ralph J. Jalkanen, president of Suomi College, is taking both the speech and the dinner to the Thursday night session of the Finlandia Foundation at Denver, Colo.

Dr. Jalkanen, invited to be the principal speaker, is taking 200 frozen pasties with him. A pastie is a dish of Cornish origin and was brought to the Michigan Copper Country by English miners at the turn of the century. It is made of meats and potatoes, wrapped in a crust of dough.

It became a favorite dish of Finnish miners as well and Miners took cooked pasties into the mines with them and reheated them there for their mid-shift meals.

Nixon To Stay Neutral During Senate Post Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is staying out of the Senate Republican leadership campaign, and a spokesman reports the administration is under neutrality orders.

All three candidates to succeed the late Everett M. Dirksen as Senate minority leader agree that the White House is maintaining a hands-off position.

Herbert G. Klein, director of communications for the administration, said its officialdom has instructions not to take sides.

"We can get along fine with any of the candidates," Klein said Monday.

The men in the running: Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska and Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee.

Republican senators will choose their new leader at a conference which could come as soon as Thursday. At the same session, Republicans are to assign Dirksen's seats on two influential committees: Finance, which is now at work on tax reform legislation, and Judiciary.

Scientists Plan Assault On Holly

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Scientists laid plans today to try taming Holly, the season's fifth hurricane, by chemical bombardment aimed at weakening the rush of air which provides such tropical storms with their awesome power.

If favorable conditions develop, planes of Project Stormfury will dump chemical seeding substances into the thick rain clouds which spiral out from the hurricane's eye.

Director Robert Simpson of the National Hurricane Center explained:

"If seeding should cause the rainband clouds to grow explosively it is possible that this growth could cut off some of the inflowing air."

Early today Holly had become nearly stationary about 1,050 miles east-southeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico, and her highest winds were estimated at 75 m.p.h. The hurricane was forecast to continue drifting today with no significant changes in intensity.

Detroiters Must Package Leaves

DETROIT (AP) — When brown leaves blanket Detroit's lawns this fall, rakers will face a $100 fine or 90 days in jail if they choose to burn rather than package them.

This year the Detroit city council has allowed $50,000 for a Department of Public Works leaf collection project. A ban on leaf burning by residents has been imposed to control air pollution.

The decision to attempt to comply with the ordinance against burning was made after DPW commissioner Robert Roselle and Morton Sterling, the county director of air pollution control, met to devise a pick up system. Rakers must now package leaves in boxes or plastic bags and leave them for collection trucks.

In past years the DPW had council permission to call off the ban because the department said the job was too much to cope with.

Arab Grenade Kills Woman, 50

TEL AVIV (AP) — An Arab threw a hand grenade into a busy market in Gaza City today, killing a 50-year-old Israeli woman and wounding another Israeli woman, a 15-year-old Israeli boy and 13 Arabs, sources in the occupied Gaza Strip reported.

Israeli troops surrounded the market and picked up a score of Arabs for questioning.

Several of the wounded were reported in serious condition.

On the other side of Israel, Arab guerrillas in Jordan opened fire on an Israeli border patrol in the Beisan Valley and wounded a sergeant, the Israeli Army reported.

The patrol returned the fire, and an exchange of mortar fire followed.

Farther north, Arab snipers opened fire on patrols near Geshor and Ashdot Ya'aqov, the Israelis reported. They said the fire was returned and there were no Israeli casualties.

Israel deported two Arabs from the occupied West Bank to Jordan today for alleged contacts with Arab terrorists. They were a former education supervisor and a chemist, and both were also accused of inciting other Arabs to commit sabotage.

The Israeli press reported today that Prime Minister Golda Meir probably will seek financial aid from the United States along with more military hardware when she meets President Nixon in Washington later this month.

State Approves First Water Pollution Bonds

LANSING (AP) — The State Administrative Board today approved the sale of the first $30 million in bonds of a $335 million water pollution abatement bond issue approved by the voters.

State Treasurer Allison Green said the bonds will be short term issue, to be retired within five years, to make them more attractive to prospective buyers.

Green said he hoped to sell the bonds at an interest rate of less than 6 per cent.

"If it were not for the threat by Congress to tax the interest on such bonds, I think we could have sold them for as low as 5 1/4 to 5 1/2 per cent," Green added.

Green said he has been advised by the State Water Resources Commission the bonds mostly will provide money to aid local projects in the process of completion or nearly completed.

The bonds will be advertised for sale Oct. 7.

Green was asked if there was any threat of withdrawal of federal support and participation in the bond issue because of the battle against inflation.

"We hear that even if inflation spirals, an exception will be made on the federal level for water pollution control projects," he said.

The $30 million, Green said, will be divided between $25 million for water pollution control projects and $5 million for local sewer line construction. It was specified that $50 million of the total be earmarked for the local sewer projects.

Also approved was an advance of $1,531,000 in state school aid to help some of the neediest school districts.

Rain To Improve Bird Hunting In Upper Peninsula

Very heavy foliage. Very light kill.

That summarizes the opening of ruffed grouse and woodcock season in the Upper Peninsula Monday.

"All reports indicate very light hunting pressure and an exceedingly light kill," commented Ralph Baily, Marquette Regional game biologist for the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

This is the second consecutive season in which the opening of ruffed grouse hunting has been advanced to Sept. 15, previously the season had opened on Oct. 1. The DNR recommended the earlier opening in order to allow hunters to spend more time afield. The ruffed grouse season ends Nov. 14.

Woodcock hunters apparently fared better than grouse hunters Monday. One veteran Marquette hunter flushed more than 20 woodcock and bagged three while combing creek bottoms in Marquette County.

A party of Marquette hunters reportedly flushed 54 woodcock — all of them in the uplands, which Bailey said was surprising in view of the extremely dry conditions.

Heavy rainfall Monday night ended the long dry spell and was expected to improve hunting conditions.

Football fans in the Escanaba and Gladstone areas will have a chance to see former Gladstone native Dale Shandonay return to the U. P. Saturday afternoon when Northern Michigan University plays host to North Dakota State, the number one ranked small college football team in the United States last season, at 1:30 at Memorial Field in Marquette. Shandonay, a former Holy Name High School football standout, is listed as a 5 foot 11 inch, 190-pound offensive guard for the Bison.

Dick Pole, former athletic great at Ewen-Trout Creek High School, finished his first season of professional baseball with a 13-8 pitching record for the Greenville Red Sox of the Western Carolinas League, a farm club of the Boston Red Sox. Pole pitched in 25 games, appearing in 164 innings and striking out 99 hitters while compiling a 3.18 earned run average.

Southpaw pitcher Jim Magnuson of Marinette is among four players of the Columbus, Ga., team of the Southern League invited by the Chicago White Sox to continue development with the Sox team in the Florida Instructional League. Magnuson played in Florida last winter also.

Bessemer High School, winless in three starts this season although gaining one tie, suffered another blow Friday night when Dave Begalle incurred injuries to both knees on a hard tackle while returning a kickoff in the final minutes of the game with Wakefield. An X-ray showed that the left knee was sprained but the extent of injury to the right was still undetermined.

The Marinette Marines, an opponent of the Escanaba Eskimos on Oct. 10, really ran into a meat grinder Friday night at Marinette when they were bombarded by Antigo, 52-18. Antigo held a 24-0 lead at the end of the first quarter and coasted the rest of the way to their second convincing victory of the season. A pair of touchdown passes from Shelly Fifelek to Wayne Kopish were the only scores Marinette could put together.

Nick Milakovich of Bessemer, the recent winner of the Gogebie Country Club golf championship, was named to the position of golf coach at Gogebie Community College. Milakovich served as the pro for two years at the Ontonagon Country Club and is a veteran of the tournament trail in the Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin for many years.

Fred Tormala defeated John Hammar recently in the finals of the Portage Lake Golf Club's annual men's club tournament. The victory was the second tourney triumph of the season for Tormala at the Portage Lake Golf Club, having won the PLGC shortstop tourney earlier this year.

Joe Pertile, hard running halfback for the Ironwood Red Devils, was the big hero in Ironwood's 20-6 victory over the Iron Mountain Mountaineers Friday night. Pertile scored all of the Red Devil touchdowns and ran up a total of 67 yards in 15 carries. Two of Pertile's touchdowns came on passes of 18 and five yards from quarterback Mike Wienen and the third came on a 37-yard run.

McLain Two-Hits Yanks For 23rd

NEW YORK (AP) — Denny McLain won 31 games for the Detroit Tigers in 1968 but none of them was as brilliant as the one he threw at the New York Yankees Monday night.

McLain's best 1968 performance was a three-hitter, and he did it three times. Monday night, however, he checked the Yankees 2-0 on two measly singles and raised his record to 23-7, most victories in the majors.

The hits were by Roy White in the first inning and Jerry Kenney in the fourth. Kenney was the last Yankee to reach base as the Tiger right-hander retired the last 16 batters.

Lions Reach Player Limit

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions placed veteran defensive end John Baker and two rookies on waivers Monday and sold defensive back Bobby Thompson to get down to the 40-player limit for the opening of the National Football League season.

The rookies are linebacker Terry Miller and offensive tackle Jim Carr.

Baker, listed as first string left end this season ahead of Joe Robb, played for Detroit last year after being acquired from the Pittsburgh Steelers in a trade. The 34-year-old Baker, who stands 6-foot-6 and weighs 255 pounds, has spent 12 years in the NFL.

Thompson, 30, who spent five full seasons with Detroit, was sold to New Orleans. He was the Lions No. 3 draft choice in 1962 but played in Canada two years before signing a Lions' pact. He played cornerback in 1964-65-66, then lost his regular job to Tommy Vaughn.

The 6-foot-2, 225-pound Miller, from Illinois, was Paul Naumoff's backup man at the left linebacker spot.

Carr, Detroit's eighth draft choice, was rated highly by Lion coaches early in the training season and it was thought he might move into a starting spot at offensive tackle. The 23-year-old, 260-pounder played his college football at Jackson State.

Center fielder Jim Northrup bailed McLain out in the fourth after Kenney reached second with one out. He made a fine running catch of Bobby Murcer's drive near the scoreboard in right center and Kenney, who had rounded third, was called out for failing to touch the bag as he retraced his steps.

The Tigers gave McLain all the support he needed by scoring their two runs in the third off Stan Bahnsen, 9-15. With two out, Al Kaline singled and scored on a triple by Norm Cash. The second run crossed on a wild pitch.

Despite the two-hit gem, McLain's over-all record doesn't match last year's 31-6 campaign. His earned run average is 2.72, compared to 1.96; he was allowed 267 hits in 304 innings while last year he yielded just 241 in 336 innings; his strikeouts are down from 280 to 167 and his 63 walks have matched last season's. His shutouts, however, are up from six to nine.

Monday's victory also enabled McLain to tie Hal Newhouser's team record of 34 victories in two consecutive seasons.

Packers Cut 3

GREEN BAY — The Green Bay Packers cut to the 40-player limit Monday afternoon by placing three men on waivers.

Placed on waivers were Asst. Coach Zeke Bratkowski, wide receiver Dan Erksstein and defensive end Larry Agajanian.

The waivers are irrevocable; should any of the three be claimed by another club, the Packers would lose their services as players, although Bratkowski would still be free to serve as a Packer coach.

Twins Open 9-Game Lead After Victory Over A's

By The Associated Press
Time is running out and the Minnesota Twins are running away from the Oakland Athletics.

The Twins reduced their magic number for clinching the American League's West Division pennant to eight Monday night, knocking off the A's 6-3 on Dave Boswell's six-hitter.

Harmon Killebrew walloped his 43rd homer of the season and raised his runs batted in total to 131 as the Twins opened a nine game lead with just 16 games left to play.

Elsewhere in the American League Monday night, Detroit shut out New York 2-0. Cleveland clipped Boston 4-1. California blanked Chicago 4-0. Seattle trimmed Kansas City 3-2 and Washington edged Baltimore 3-2.

Killebrew's homer capped a three-run Twin rally in the third inning and attracted a standing ovation from the crowd of 26,497 at Metropolitan stadium.

Rod Carew opened the third with an infield single and reached third when pitcher Rolfe Fingers threw wild. Then Oliva doubled him home and Killebrew followed with his homer.

Killebrew opened the sixth with a single and came around on Cesar Tovar's double and a sacrifice fly by Leo Cardenas. The Twins added two more runs in the eighth on RBI singles by Tovar and Boswell.

Rick Monday, in his second at bat since breaking his hand Aug. 10, ripped a two-run homer

Staubach May Get Call Against Cards Sunday

By The Associated Press
The St. Louis Cardinals likely will face the same dilemma in the National Football League opener Sunday that confounded Baltimore last weekend—how to cope with Roger Staubach, the sensational, scrambling Dallas Cowboys rookie quarterback.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry said Monday that regular quarterback Craig Morton, sidelined with a dislocated right index finger, would be a doubtful starter against the Cards at the Cotton Bowl.

Baltimore stopped Dallas 23-7 in the preseason finale last weekend but Staubach, who isn't called "The Dodger" for nothing, kept the rugged Baltimore defense on the run.

"I never ran so much in all my life," said a weary Bubba Smith, the Colts' menacing defensive end after chasing Staubach around the Cotton Bowl Sunday. "I've never seen anyone, including Fran Tarkenton, who can scramble like Staubach. The only times we caught him was when he was standing still."

Which wasn't often. At one point, the 28-year-old Navy product, who won the Heisman Trophy in 1963, ate up 23 seconds to gain 14 yards in a run through half the Baltimore team.

What makes Roger run? "I saw openings and I wanted the yards," said Staubach, who in the second, giving Oakland the early lead.

Duke Sims tagged a two-run homer as Boston rallied for four runs in the ninth inning to overtake Boston.

Lee Stange was working on a three-hitter and leading 1-0 on Mike Andrews' first inning homer. But Jose Cardenal opened the Indians' ninth with a single, stole second and scored the tying run on Frank Baker's single. Sims followed with his homer and Cleveland added another run later in the inning.

Bill Voss drove in three runs with a bases-loaded triple—one of only three Chicago hits—as California trimmed Chicago.

Jim McGlothlin and Ken Tatum teamed for the five-hit shutout.

Gene Brabender won his 13th

Shipman Wins Sailing Award

Dean Shipman Jr. has captured the Van Brussel Trophy with a total of three demerits in the best three of four races in the series.

Jon Baudek finished in first place in the first race Saturday while Shipman picked up three demerits for second. Third place went to Chris Shipman while Lynn Zimmerman, Mike Curtin and Bill Taylor followed in order.

In Saturday's second race, Shipman came in first while his brother Chris placed second. Taylor wound up in third place and Curtin and Baudek finished fourth and fifth respectively.

Shipman has also won the State Bank Trophy and is the leading contender for the WDBC Trophy for the overall El Toro sailor of the year.

gained more yardage rushing, 118, than passing, 108, because he had trouble locating his receivers and reading the defenses.

The Cowboys, meanwhile, released two rookies as NFL clubs reached their 40-man limit Monday. Released on waivers were George Nordgren, a running back from Houston, and linebacker Chuck Kyle of Purdue.

The Colts dropped Coach Bobby Boyd, wide receiver Don Alley and running back Larry Conjar. Boyd was named defensive backfield coach after nine seasons as a defensive back with the Colts. But he was kept on the roster until the last cut, in case he is needed as a player.

The Los Angeles Rams released veteran Jim "Red" Phillips. Frank Marchlewski and three other players on waivers. The others cut were veteran cornerback Jim Nittles, second-year defensive end Rick Cash and rookie place kicker David Ray.

The Saints cut two starters. Asst. Joe Wendrynowski, acquired in the 1967 expansion draft from Los Angeles, and cornerback John Douglas, a fifth-round draft pick in 1967, got the ax.

The New York Giants, winless in all five preseason games, obtained defensive tackle Frank Parker from Pittsburgh for an undisclosed draft choice.

Carlton Sets Strikeout Record; Loses To Mets

By The Associated Press
Steve Carlton felt lousy. He was running a slight temperature, his back hurt and he arrived at the St. Louis ball park only about an hour before Monday night's game with the New York Mets.

The big left-hander had his sore back rubbed down, took a couple of pain killers—and went out and struck out 19 batters, the most strikeouts recorded by a pitcher in modern major league history.

Only there was one little problem.

"The Amazing Mets Super Swat got me," said Carlton, referring to Ron Swoboda, whose two homers produced all of New York's runs in a 4-3 victory that spoiled Carlton's masterpiece.

Swoboda, fanned twice by Carlton, boosted the Mets from behind with each of his shots—and both came when Carlton had two strikes on him.

The triumph increased to 4½ games the Mets' National League East lead over Chicago, which lost 8-2 at Montreal, and reduced to 11 New York's magic number for clinching the divisional title.

Meanwhile, Willie Mays hit the 599th homer of his career in leading San Francisco past West Division leader Atlanta 4-1, drawing that torrid race even tighter.

The Giants trail the Braves by only one-half game and .003 percentage points. Cincinnati broke Los Angeles' four-game winning streak 4-1 to move ahead of the Dodgers into third place, just one game and .005 points back of the Braves. The Dodgers are 1½ games and .009 points back of the leader.

In other games, San Diego handed Houston its fifth straight defeat, 5-3, keeping the fifth-place Astros 5½ games back of Atlanta, while Philadelphia swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh, 2-1 and 4-3.

Carlton, who struck out 16 in losing effort to Philadelphia two years ago, said he wasn't aware of how many strikeouts he had until it was flashed on the scoreboard after he tied his old team record of 16 in the eighth inning. The 24-year-old lefty received a standing ovation when he completed his string by setting down the Mets in order in the final inning.

Rob Feller of the Cleveland Indians set the old record of 18 strikeouts on Oct. 2, 1938 and Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers matched it twice, while Don Wilson had 18 for Houston last year.

Carlton fanned the side in the first, second fourth and ninth innings and retired 12 of the first 15 Mets on whiffs.

Swoboda staked the Mets to a brief 2-1 lead in the fourth when he homered on an 9-2 count with Donn Clendenon aboard.

Then Swoboda, who has hit six of his nine homers while the Mets have taken 27 of their last 34 games, produced the winner on a 2-2 count with Tommie Agnew on in the eighth.

Ron Fairly drove in four runs

Taylor Injured; Out Three Weeks

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions announced Monday that X-rays have shown that running back Albie Taylor is suffering from a hair-line shoulder fracture and will be lost to the National Football League club for at least three weeks.

Taylor, a rookie from Utah State and the Lions' first draft choice, suffered the injury Sept. 6 in an exhibition game against the Philadelphia Eagles at Raleigh, N.C.

The club said first X-rays showed only a bruise, but that subsequent ones have disclosed a fracture in his right shoulder.

Taylor was the club's leading ground gainer in the preseason games, carrying 37 times for 187 yards and an average of 4.9 yards.

First baseman Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs never played in the minor leagues. He played 10 games at shortstop as a Cub rookie in 1953.

with a double and his 10th homer and John Bateman, a two-run homer to back Mike Wegener's three-bitter run. Bateman handed the Cubs their third straight loss and 11th in 12 games. It was the fourth straight victory for the expansion Expos, longest of the season.

Mays moved just one spot away from the 600-homer career plateau and also contributed a double in supporting Mike McCormick's five-hitter.

After Willie's error—a rare thing for him—helped lead to Atlanta's first run in the opening inning, Mays lashed a run-scoring double and Willie McCovey an RBI single in the bottom of the inning to put the Giants on top for good.

Mays led off the sixth with his 12th homer of the season, and the two extra-base blows gave Mays a career total of 1,192—breaking a tie with Lou Gehrig and boosting the star center fielder into third place on the all-time list behind Stan Musial and Babe Ruth.

Tony Perez' two-run single and Alex Johnson's RBI double keyed a three-run third inning that carried Cincinnati past the Dodgers. Woodward also had an RBI single in the ninth.

Willie Crawford's 11th homer of the season, in the sixth, produced Los Angeles' only run off Tony Cloninger, who had late relief help from Wayne Granger.

San Diego dealt Houston's pennant hopes a big blow with a starting line-up that averaged 22 years and included six rookies.

Jose Arcia doubled home three of the Padre runs, and rookie Mike Corkins, 1-1, picked up his first major league victory.

Pittsburgh's Bob Veale had his personal eight-game winning streak snapped in losing the opener to the Phils. Veale checked the Phils on one hit—Deron Johnson's homer in the fourth—until the ninth, when John Callison's single, a walk and a sacrifice set the stage for rookie catcher Dave Watkins winning single.

Wisconsinite Jailed On Two Court Charges

Gregory Popke, 23, New London, Wis., was unable to post $350 bond during a bond hearing in district court Monday morning and was remanded to the county jail pending an arraignment Wednesday at 10 a. m.

Popke is charged with indecent exposure and reckless driving. Magistrate Howard Magoon set $250 bond on the first charge and $100 on the second. Popke also has a third citation pending: that of driving with a revoked operator's license.

The Wisconsin man was arrested by troopers of the Michigan State Police Saturday at 8:15 p. m. after a high-speed automobile chase on U. S. 2. About 15 minutes before his arrest, a complaint had been received by three teen-age girls that the alleged exposure was committed in the driveway of a former gasoline station in the city.

Charles M. Cousineau, 713 Deer St., was ticketed for careless driving after his automobile went out of control and rolled over. The accident happened at 11:35 Sunday night on U. S. 2, Manistique Township, troopers report. Cousineau's vehicle sustained considerable damage and was towed from the scene by wrecker.

Three break-ins were reported to state police over the weekend. Mrs. George Houghton, 113 S. First St., reported a rear door had been forced on a farmhouse she owns in Doyle Township. Several small articles were taken.

Jack Slack, 140 E. Elk St., found a door on his cabin in Manistique had been forced, but nothing was reported missing. A cabin in Doyle Township, owned by Fred Kauffman of Garden City, was believed to have been entered since several windows were reported broken, state police said. Nothing was reported missing and all illegal entries are currently under investigation.

Carrie D. Prater, 334 Chipewa Ave., received injuries when his motorcycle flipped on the Little Harbor Road in Thompson Township on Sunday. Prater, who is 16 years old, was cited to probate court for violation of the Motor Vehicle Law.

Also under investigation is a complaint that gasoline was siphoned from two parked automobiles on the Jacob Landers farm in Garden. Owners of three abandoned automobiles found at various locations in the area were notified to dispose of same by the state police.

Nader Says Rule On Car Antismog Device Wrong

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer critic Ralph Nader says the Justice Department's consent decree settlement with major automakers accused of suppressing antismog devices is a "legal fiction" designed to mislead the public.

"Better a trial sought and lost than a consent decree gained in the form of a legal fiction and talked up by a compliance capability that is beyond pathos," said Nader in a letter to the Justice Department's antitrust chief, Richard W. McLaren.

Nader hinted he would contest the settlement, in which auto manufacturers admitted no guilt, but agreed not to suppress research on devices to cut down exhaust emission from cars and trucks.

"There is every indication that this is going to be the most widely contested decree in antitrust history," he said.

The decree becomes effective in 30 days, McLaren had no immediate response to Nader's letter.

Nader complained the decree does not set up adequate machinery for insuring the auto manufacturers obey antitrust laws in the future.

Hungry Burglar Baffles Police

LAPEER (AP) — The phantom food burglar has struck again and police are baffled.

For three weeks, the State Police post at Lapeer has been receiving complaints about a burglar who breaks into homes in nearby Deerfield Township and steals food.

They thought they had the case cracked when they arrested a man, but while the suspect was behind bars, the phantom thief struck again. Police theorize a lone burglar lives in the woods and steals when he is hungry.

MANISTIQUE Fact-Finding Group Due On Wednesday

Arrangements have been completed for the visit of the Governor's Industry and Tourism Fact-Finding Mission which will be in Manistique Wednesday.

Anyone interested in attending the noon luncheon at the Fireside will be welcome, said Omer J. Schuster, local coordinator of the session. Five formal presentations on the immediate and future needs of this area will be presented to the group, headed by Richard E. Whitmer, Director of the Michigan Department of Commerce.

Offering testimony will be Ralph Gillam, Edwin E. Wuehle, Frank S. Hoholik, Robert Noe and David M. Kelly.

The group will arrive in Manistique at 10 a. m. and tour the Manistique Pulp and Paper Company before the luncheon. Departure for Escanaba is scheduled for 2 p. m. The tour began Monday and will visit 12 key U. P. areas before disbanding Saturday in Menominee.

Accompanying Director Whitmer will be B. M. Conboy, Director of the Office of Economic Expansion; Ward J. Mayrand, Executive Assistant, Dept. of Commerce; and Aarne Ervast, advance arrangements planner.

Of the tour, Gov. William Milliken has said: "This is a step in developing a plan for action and it is vital that the new Commerce Department director focus now on the problems and potentials concerning the Upper Peninsula's economic climate."

"On completion of the mission, Mr. Whitmer will report to me on the situation as he has assessed it in contacts with individuals and groups throughout the Peninsula. I further expect suggestions on what we can do for the Upper Peninsula, suggestions that may have originated from the citizens or from the knowledge and experience Mr. Whitmer will gain on this mission," the governor added.

Abolition Of Electoral Plan Seen Harmful

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Negro congressman says abolition of the Electoral College would encourage black separatist parties and other splinter groups that would shatter the two-party system.

Rep. William Clay, D-Mo., sounded his warning against shifting from the present system to direct popular elections as the House neared a key vote on electoral reform.

An alternate plan, sponsored by Texas Democrat Rep. John Dowdy, calling for awarding electoral votes on the basis of congressional districts instead of by states was rescheduled for voting today after a delay in the House Monday.

Clay, a freshman congressman from St. Louis, said the present system of electing presidents enhances the political power of Negroes in urban areas by making it possible for them to influence large blocks of electoral votes. Wiping out the electoral college, he said, would eliminate the influence of Negro voters in the North as well as the South.

Clay's position puts him at odds with most urban congressmen. Clay declared the Electoral College is the best protection for the two-party system, which, he said, offers Negroes their best opportunity for political participation.

Without the cohesiveness of the Electoral College, he said, the national parties will be weakened and splinter groups will be encouraged to take their views to the electorate.

"I am certain that black separatist, conservative and liberal parties would evolve," he said. "These splinter groups will choose to take root when it becomes unnecessary for them to work within the major political parties."

Clay said advocates of direct election were over-reacting to the scare created by George C. Wallace's third-party race last year. What they should really be afraid of, he said, is the possibility of divisiveness that direct elections might create.

Cancer Hazard In Sweetener, Food, Drug Group Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Animal evidence of a potential cancer hazard from the widely used artificial sweetener cyclamate has been found by Food and Drug Administration researchers. But there is no proof the results could apply to humans.

Dr. Marving Legator, head of the research team told about chromosome breaks produced in the bone-marrow cells and reproductive cells of male rats injected with a chemical that is a metabolic breakdown product of the artificial sweetener.

He said it is hazardous to relate animal results to humans when dealing with genetic experiments but unless the difference can be shown between how animals handle the material and how it would be handled in man, "you must allow the animal results to stand unless and until refuted."

Legator reported appreciable numbers of breaks resulted in rats given an amount equivalent to that which might be consumed by a human drinking several bottles of diet soft drink a day.
